

SEE and SUPPORT Children of Incarcerated Parents this October

See Us,
Support Us

1 in 28

One in 28 children in the U.S. has an incarcerated parent on any given day. That's 2.7 million children, nationwide.

1 in 5

One in 5 children with a parent in state prison is age 4 or younger. In the federal system, it's 15%.

All Ages

Parental incarceration affects children of all ages—including those older than 18 who are no longer counted as “children.”

This October, join SEE US, SUPPORT US, a month-long, national campaign to increase supports for children of incarcerated parents. We invite you to take action to SEE the strength and resilience of children, their caregivers, and parents, and SUPPORT them by reducing the stigma and systemic barriers they face.
